Barb Malek

Barb Malek was born into a Mennonite family with deep roots in Nebraska. Her biography, Soft Like Steel (2012, WriteLife), tells the story of her grandmother, Barbara Kennel, who not only survived an unfaithful husband, but also the heat and starvation of the Dust Bowl to raise her eight children. Her story is one of courage, mixed with forgiveness, that has impacted the author's family for three generations and counting.

Tunette Powell

Tunette Powell's passion for speaking and writing led her to publish her first book, The Other Woman (WriteLife), in 2012. Since the book's release, Tunette has graced the covers of magazines and has travelled the country sharing her story of overcoming the odds. Powell, former staff writer for the San Antonio Express-News, currently writes for Momaha.com, a parenting site offered through the Omaha World-Herald. Her website is <http://www.tunettepowell.com/>

John T. Price

John T. Price is the author of the memoirs Daddy Long Legs: The Natural Education of a Father (forthcoming in Spring 2013 by Trumpeter Books/Shambhala Press); Man Killed by Pheasant and Other Kinships (Da Capo Press, 2008; paperback: University of Iowa Press, 2012) and Not Just Any Land: A Personal and Literary Journey into the American Grasslands (University of Nebraska Press, 2004). He is a Professor of English at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, where he teaches nonfiction writing, and a fellow at the Black Earth Institute.

His website is at <http://www.johntprice.com/>

John Rector

John Rector is the Wall Street Journal bestselling author of the novels The Grove (2011, Mariner Books), Already Gone (2011, Thomas and Mercer), and The Cold Kiss (2010, Forge Books—optioned for a feature film now in development). His short fiction has appeared in numerous magazines and won several awards including the Porterhouse Prize. He lives in Omaha.

Todd Robinson

Todd Robinson's poems have appeared in Margie, The Southeast Review, The Potomac Review, Strange Machine, Natural Bridge, The Midwest Quarterly, and elsewhere. He is a founding member of the Seven Doctors Project, served for a time on the board of the Backwaters Press, has judged several writing contests, and has presented his work in bars and classrooms, hospitals and restaurants, at dinner parties and art museums, parks and coffee shops, and at Ted Kooser's farm.

Barbara Schmitz

Barbara Schmitz' spiritual memoir, Path Of Lightning: A Seeker's Jagged Journey was released from Pinyon Publishing in October 2012. Her latest poetry collection, How Much Our Dancing Has Improved (2005), from Backwaters, won the 2005 Nebraska Center for the Book Award. She taught writing and literature at Northeast Community College for thirty years and ran the Visiting Writers Series there.

Benjamin Vogt

Benjamin Vogt is the author of the poetry collection Afterimage (2013, SFA Press). His poems and essays have appeared in Creative Nonfiction, Diagram, ISLE, Orion, The Sun, and Verse Daily. Benjamin has a Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska and an M.F.A. from The Ohio State University. He lives in Lincoln where he has an award-winning 1500' prairie garden. Visit him at bevogt.com.

Stacey Waite

Stacey Waite is currently Assistant Professor of English at the University of Nebraska and has published four collections of poems: Choke (winner of the 2004 Frank O'Hara Prize), Love Poem to Androgyny (winner of the 2006 Main Street Rag Chapbook Competition), the lake has no saint (winner of the 2008 Snowbound Prize from Tupelo Press), and Butch Geography just released this year from Tupelo Press. Waite is also the co-host of the podcast "Air Schooner," free to download from the Prairie Schooner website. Waite is also a coach for two high school poetry slam teams in Lincoln through the Nebraska Writers Collective's Louder Than a Bomb.

Don Welch

Don Welch is a poet and an educator who was born in Hastings, Nebraska. The author of several published poetry collections and regular contributor to literary magazines, Welch was an English professor at the University of Nebraska at Kearney from 1959 to 1997. While there he was awarded the Distinguished Paul W. Reynolds and Clarice Kingston Reynolds Endowed Chair in English, Poetry & Creative Writing. In June 2001 a bronze sculpture of Welch was finished and dedicated to him on the campus. His latest collection of poems is due out Spring 2013 by SFA University Press.

Fred Zydek

Fred Zydek has published more than eight hundred poems and is the author of nine collections. After having taught for several years, first at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, and later at the College of Saint Mary, he now writes full time. He is also editor of Lone Willow Press. His website is at <http://fredrickzydek.com/>. His memoir The Button Box was released in 2012 through Create Space.com
